Editorial

Earth Sciences Pakistan (ESP) is an International Open & Free Access quarterly e-Journal publishing peer-reviewed primary research/review papers from all the domains: geophysics, geology, physical geography, atmospheric science, oceanography, soil and environmental science in English language. It also publishes popular articles, gallery of photos of geo-scientific interests, News items also containing organization of earth science events, seminars, conferences etc. across the globe as our outreach efforts. ESP is launched for rapid exchange of researches and ideas between the widespread community of earth scientists and also to promote awareness about 'Science of Earth' among students and common public. Earth Sciences Pakistan (ESP) is aiming at promoting and publishing original high quality research in all disciplines of earth sciences and technology.
